

Cancer treatments have saved countless lives, but unfortunately there can be some major side effects and consequences to the body from these treatments.

Due to growing popularity and proven effectiveness there has been a paradigm shift in acceptance of alternative/complimentary treatments. Both oncology doctors and patients alike are looking for a more comfortable and tolerable chemotherapy/radiation therapy experience with the aid of natural treatments.

Did you know that Mayo Clinic and Cancer Treatment Centers of America are just a couple of highly respected and well known institutions that are implementing these treatments with their cancer patients?

Although there can be wonderful benefits from these types of treatment, some can also potentially interfere or negatively impact the prescribed cancer therapy protocol and successful outcome.

Introducing Flourish Quantum Healing Home System for Chemotherapy/Radiation Therapy Patients

The Flourish Quantum Healing Home System for Chemotherapy/Radiation Therapy is a combination of multiple scientifically researched and proven safe and effective complementary treatment modalities. Each modality in the system has been cross checked with multiple traditional cancer treatment recommendations including the American Cancer Society. You and your doctor can feel confident that every part of this system can be safely used in tandem with your treatment protocol.

FlourishQHHS

- Helps empower your own innate inner healer to work synergistically with the expert cancer treatment your doctor provides.
- Gently supports the body without contraindications or negative impact on the powerful and expensive drugs and treatments.
- Does not include any supplementation due to potential contraindications to taking some vitamins, minerals, herbs, roots etc.
- Supports and balances the patient's system prior to the treatments, while undergoing chosen treatment interventions, and in recovery.
- Easy to understand and easy to use from the convenience of your own home 24/7 – no matter the time of day or night, this complimentary treatment "tool box" is available when you need it.
- Saves the patient time and money by teaching them healing techniques and treatments so they learn how to harness their own inner healer.
- Helps to balance the 12 systems of the body thus improving immunological response to the cancer, the drugs that combat it, and so much more.
- Provides the patient a powerful combination of techniques and tools to alleviate symptoms, provide emotional support and to balance and strengthen the body.
- Helps you prepare the best conditions to thrive and ultimately win the fight against cancer and disease.

Find out more on our website www.FlourishQHHS.com